

12th INTERNATIONAL
FOOD
DATA CONFERENCE

October 11 -13, 2017
Buenos Aires, Argentina

From Food Composition to better Policies and Programmes in Nutrition and Agriculture

OBJETIVE

The aim of the Conference is to exchange experiences among specialists from around the world around the activities of the generation and compilation of food composition data and their applications in the different areas such as nutrition, health, biodiversity, food technology, biotechnology, food policies, food-nutrition education, and agriculture programmes and policies.

We will be very happy to welcome you all in Argentina and work together on spreading the word on improved food composition data and their essential role in so many areas. We hope to welcome professionals from nutrition, economy and agriculture.
